

"New trends and good practices in management of organisations".

The conference will take place on 17-18 November 2016 in Toruń, Poland.

The main aim of the conference is presentation of research concerning the current problems in management, emphasising good business practices and exchanging ideas on contemporary challenges for management sciences.

We invite papers concerning the following fields of interest:

1. Main contemporary challenges for management theory and practice.
2. Idea of positive management in theory and practice.
3. Role of communication in in management of organisations.
4. Factors of organisation's development and ways of carrying out development strategies.
5. New aspects in human resources management.
6. Knowledge management and innovations management.
7. Quantitative methods in management.

The papers written in English will be published in Torun Bussines Review after receiving positive reviews. All details concerning publication are on the website: <http://www.tbr.wsb.torun.pl>.

There will be possibility to present papers and participate in discussion in English.

Especially, we would like to invite representatives of partner universities from the Erasmus Programme.

It is possible to combine conference participation with Erasmus Programme lectures.